Chevrolet Announces Four New Appearance Packages for the 2025 Corvette Stingray

By Keith Cornett -Jan 23, 2025

Chevrolet dropped some good news for potential Corvette buyers today as dealers just got the heads up about four new Stingray appearance packages coming soon. Chevy says in the memo that these four packages are available for a limited time only. We assume they will only be offered through the end of the ’25 model year which could happen as soon as May 31, 2025 based on recent reports.

It’s been a little while since we’ve seen an appearance package offered for Corvettes. The last was the 2019 Corvette ZR1’s Sebring Orange Design Package which sets up the car in a way that offers a uniform look with a package price that offers a nice little discount as opposed to adding all the various options individually. Chevrolet Japan is a big proponent of design packages as well, with the market offering two or three new appearance packages during the model year.

These four new Stingray Spring Packages shown by GM are all Stingray Coupes, however they can be ordered on Convertibles as well. The best news is that there is no requirement for an upper-level trim group that we can see at this time. Here is what they include:

By taking the 2025 CNC into the heart of the regional NSW towns of Parkes and Forbes, in some small way we can assist families of the floods that occurred in the region in November 2022. The Lach- Ian River rose to nearly 10.8 metres at its peak. Many homes were destroyed, families experienced loss of belongings, loss of livestock and much more. Homes were taken from their footings and were washed down the river.

The town of Parkes was part of the colonial expansion of the early 19th century, the town was founded in 1862 as a reef and alluvial gold centre, originally called Bushmans after a prominent local mine owner. It was renamed for Sir Henry Parkes, a state premier, in 1873, was proclaimed a municipality in 1883. Parkes is a commercial centre for the sheep, grain, fruit, pig and poultry farming area of the Western Slopes region. It is also a rail junction on the Newell Highway, with air connections to Sydney 298 km, southeast.

Gold mining in the area ceased in 1947.

Industries in the region include steel fabrication works, sawmills, join- eries and agricultural machinery plants. One of the world's largest 64 metres bowl-shaped radio telescopes, operated by the Common- wealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation, is at Alectown 25 km north. The annual Parkes Elvis Festival, celebrating the life and music of Elvis Presley, has been held in January every year since its inception 8years ago.

With the presence of the nearby Parkes Observatory, Parkes has had an important role in the scientific community. In addition to local research conducted at the radio telescope, Parkes scientists have assisted NASA for several missions as a Southern Hemisphere relay and communications station. The movie The Dish was based somewhat loosely on the role the telescope played during the 1969 Apollo 11 Moon landing. The Dish, although set in Parkes, was largely filmed in Forbes' historic precinct. This is due to very few historic buildings remaining in Parkes.

Long time member Richard G. just returned from a month holiday in the USA. Leaving behind his 1961 Corvette, he felt the need to hire a new Corvette convertible, but was slightly disappointed to find new to Hertz Car Hire is "usually not more than a year old".

One early travel tip pre-book your car and join the hire companies members club i.e. Hertz gold plus, or Avis Preferred. The Hertz office at San Francisco International Airport was a zoo. Rows of people lined up ten deep trying to get any car. A little sign said gold members go downstairs. Downstairs I walked up to the counter and was given some paper work and told my car was in bay 258, keys inside, and ready to go. I found the car, but it was locked. I found an employee who sent over their "specialist". Wouldn't you think they would have a spare key fob? So a guy shows up with a piece of rubber, a small inflatable bag, and a long metal rod. It turns out because the doors are all electronic it probably locked itself. There are levers on the floor each side so one can get out if the car loses electric power. In about 40 seconds, this guy had pushed the window out with the inflatable bag enough to reach the lever and open the door. Alarms went off but he just grabbed the key fob and Bob's your Uncle -silence. So with a grey 2013, LS3 (460hp) automatic, I set out from San Francisco International.

The flights from Perth to Brisbane, to LA and then up to San Francisco took about 25 hours plus layovers waiting for flights but I found my motel in Oakland, and we[illegible] evening Oakland A's baseball game. It was a good game and the lad[illegible]ball. A hot dog and a beer cost $20.00, -they have a cap[illegible] later, [illegible]00, and a couple beers and dogs Next [illegible] Redr[illegible]

A full article on the weekend will be posted on the website in the near future but, in the meantime, here are some photographs. A huge thankyou to Marion & Andy for the incredible amount of work they did in organising this event.

How to Watch the Five Corvette Z06 GT3Rs at the 2025 Rolex 24 at Daytona

The 2025 Rolex 24 at Daytona is finally here as is the start of Corvette Racing's 2025 IMSA campaign. This year's Rolex 24 brings five Chevrolet Corvette Z06 GT3Rs together for the largest field of Corvettes to race at the twice-around-the-clock affair since 2007. This year we'll have our two Yellow/Black Corvette Z06s from Pratt Miller Motorsports and a new entry from Trackhouse Racing by TF Sport in the GTD Pro class, while AWA Racing and DXDT Racing will each field a single Z06 GT3R entry in the GTD Am class. With that many Corvettes, let's hope the camera gods at in charge of the racing coverage actually take a break from showing the top class and will give us lowly GT racing fans something good to watch!

Thanks again to my friend Charley Robertson at the Corvette Racing Fans page on Facebook for putting together these links for us.
